

ELDERBERRY
FAMILY FARMS
PRODUCT
CATALOG

All of our products are lovingly made in small batches on our family farm

Our mission is to “Empower Natural Health” by making great-quality elderberry products in many forms for people’s various tastes and preferences.

Traditional Elderberry - REINVENTED - into a diverse line of great tasting products for use in everyday life.

Our products are “naturally functional.”

They provide all the health benefits that are intrinsic to Elderberries.

Our products also use herbs and spices that are “naturally functional”.

These herbs and spices bring in ethnic flavors, taste, and enjoyment; plus they have associated health benefits and traditional use stories of their own.

By “Empowering Natural Health”, we empower people to live the vibrant, healthy lives they deserve.

People use our products consistently because they love the results they receive and the assurance of all-natural, eco-friendly products.

We love supporting other small family farms and utilize them as often as possible when sourcing additional elderberries, herbs, and honey for our products.

Customers trust Elderberry Family Farms because they know where their products are coming from and that their best interest is held in mind every step of the way.
